Property Description

Tucked quietly off the main highway, this peaceful 782 m² property sits at the edge of the jungle just a short walk from the village of Cahuita, the Cahuita National Park entrance, local shops, and the supermarket, offering an exceptional balance of seclusion and convenience. The grounds are beautifully landscaped with mature plants, flowering bushes, and lush tropical greenery, creating a natural garden that all five cabins and the common area overlook. It's the kind of setting that feels effortlessly resort-like without trying too hard. The Layout The property includes five independent cabins and a shared common area, forming a small self-contained community ideal for groups, retreats, volunteer programs, or conversion into a boutique eco-lodge. Three larger cabins each feature two bunk beds (sleeping up to four), a private bathroom with a shower, and a kitchenette with a fridge and stove — well-suited for extended stays.
